

Identity governance and access management

Independent expertise, backed by over thirty years in technology. Together with your team, we find out who can get into your systems, design how that access is governed, and put it in place at a pace your business sets. Each client gets dedicated attention and singular focus from the first conversation to the final report.

Services

Identity discovery and mapping

Every way into your systems, internal and external, traced back to the identity behind it.

Application access and SSO coverage

How each application authenticates, its single sign-on and MFA coverage, and the gaps against policy.

Governance and policy design

Roles, least privilege, and approval and review rules, built on Zero Trust at the pace your business sets.

Gap and risk report

The applications in your environment, the policies governing access, how that access is recertified, and any risk accepted along the way.

How we work

- One main point of contact for the whole engagement, and any outside specialist joins only with your approval.
- No vendor sponsorships or commissions, so the recommendation is simply what fits your environment.
- Each approach is built around your environment and its risks, so it meets compliance needs without getting in the way of day-to-day operations.
- What we learn in your environment stays there. Lessons carry over between clients; their details never do.
